COUSE OBJECTIVES

At the conclusion of this activity, participants should be able to:

• Describe the imaging anatomy and protocols that are necessary to arrive at the diagnosis of Peritoneal diseases.

• Explain the performance and processing of MRI and CT studies designed to depict anatomy and pathology.

• Develop differential diagnosis that relates to the pertinent imaging and clinically relevant findings for each of the cases covered in this course.

• Apply quality improvement strategies to the practice of interventional radiology with a focus on increasing efficiency, communication, and collaboration.

• Assess the current status and future applications of advanced breast imaging technologies.

• Optimize imaging methods to reduce the number of false-positive mammography interpretations.

• Evaluate current technical advances in cardiac imaging hardware and software, as well as the utilization of these tools to gain rapid, detailed functional and anatomical information for cardiac assessment.

• Outline the fundamentals of the latest advanced techniques in MRI and CT and their current roles and limitations in clinical practice.

• Integrate information presented in this course to improve the imaging skills of the participants.
COURSE OVERVIEW

The Imaging in Hawaii course is designed to provide the tools for participants to enhance interpretation skills utilizing the latest imaging technologies. Lectures and cases will cover evidence-based practice techniques and protocols for improved diagnostic accuracy in multiple applications.

TARGET AUDIENCE

The course is intended for practicing radiologists and radiologic nurses, physician assistants, technologists, scientists, residents, fellows and others who are interested in current techniques and applications for advanced diagnostic imaging.

ACCREDITATION

Physician Continuing Education Accreditation Statement

This activity has been planned & implemented in accordance with the accreditation requirements and policies of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education through the joint sponsorship of Postgraduate Institute for Medicine and CME Science. The Postgraduate Institute for Medicine is accredited by the ACCME to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

Credit Designation

The Postgraduate Institute for Medicine designates this live activity for a maximum of 9.0 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Technologists: This course is pending approval for up to 10.0 ARRT Category A CE credits for those technologists attending the entire course.
